Aiptek at CeBIT with new professional MediaTablet Ultimate II graphics tablet

Willich, 6 March 2012. Graphic designers - watch out! Specialists Aiptek have launched the optimum solution for all professional applications relating to graphic design, illustration and photo editing, the Ultimate II MediaTablet. This is the next instalment of the Taiwanese manufacturer's successful line of MediaTablets. The 9.5" (24cm) graphic tablet with considerably improved features, costs 149 euros and will be available in the shops in May.

The MediaTablet Ultimate has a battery-free, tilt-sensitive stylus which works at 5080 LPI resolution and 2048 pressure points. The ergonomic design has been developed for both left and right-handers and is designed to ensure users can work without getting tired. The matt, non-reflective surface is suitable for office conditions, but the MediaTablet Ultimate II is also perfect for ambitious professionals at entry level.

Two programmable scroll wheels make zooming, scrolling and navigating child's play. There are also four programmable hotkeys which you can use, for example, to save important shortcuts or functions such as "open program" or "activate eraser".

You can adjust the monitor working area to suit your needs. This means parts of the monitor are not controlled by the graphics tablet and can be used for templates, tweets or RSS feeds. The tablet also comes with a full version of Adobe Photoshop Elements 8.0, making the MediaTablet Ultimate II the perfect package for both private and professional users.
